Brown's® Proudly Supports:

My Great-Great Grandfather, powered grist mill in 1843. (It's and protected as a national historic landmark that still stands today). He used mill stones to grind the grains to produce farm animal feed and flour from the wheat he grew on his farm.

George Brown, built a water featured in the illustration above

Franklin Brown, one of George's sons, joined his father in the business that he directed until he retired in 1920. As our country was celebrating the dawn of the 20th century, Brown's business started on its path of expansion and growth with the addition of Franklin Brown's four sons, the third generation, into the family business.

The four sons formed a partnership called F.M. Brown's Sons that was later incorporated in 1948. Each son successfully established separate but supporting divisions of F.M. Brown's including a large animal food division in Birdsboro, PA; the flour division in Sinking Spring, PA which later moved into a new plant in Fleetwood, PA; a working farm in Douglassville, PA and a fuel oil and coal division in Reading, PA. Later, their sons, the fourth generation of Brown's, entered the corporation.

In 1960, Harvey Brown, my Father and a member of the fourth generation of F.M. Brown's, moved his family to Sinking Spring, PA and began selling large animal foods that were produced by his brother in Birdsboro, PA. Harvey enjoyed a thriving business and had many trucks lined up waiting to be loaded with feed for their farm animals.

He then began to notice that farmers in the area were selling their land to developers and that it was time to think about the prospect of reinventing his business. Harvey noticed that people in the suburbs were setting up wild bird feeding stations in their backyards. He enjoyed the hobby but had difficulty finding a good quality wild bird food in the area. He began to explore the business of producing wild bird food at his facility. He channeled his entrepreneurial spirit, did his research, and spent endless hours setting up the plant to produce and package wild bird food. This was a brand new venture for F.M. Brown's.

With blood, sweat and tears, Harvey built his division from the ground up and made innovations in manufacturing procedures, including his exclusive five-stage cleaning process. He had no tolerance for dust, dirt or inferior ingredients. With his high standards, he established us a hobbyist quality wild bird food company that caters to people who are true hobbyists, interested in bringing beautiful songbirds into their backyard feeding stations. His loyal customers were so impressed with his wild bird food that they asked him to produce companion pet foods as well. He remembers when he received his first full truckload order for wild bird and companion pet food and how he celebrated that day.

Now under the supervision of the fifth generation of Brown's, Marianne Brown Egolf as Manager of the division, we have expanded the Sinking Spring facility in order to keep up with the demand for our trusted brands, licensed products, and private label companion pet and wild bird products that are sold and recognized throughout the world. We're proud to have "stepped up to the plate" and reinvented the business again. My dad, Harvey Brown, was there to guide us all the way through the expansion with encouraging words and instilling us with his values, high standards, and work ethic.

F.M. Brown's has grown into five privately held manufacturing facilities with divisions that include fuel oil and coal, a working farm, pigeon feed, grass seed, companion pet food and treats, wild bird food, equine treats, pond food, farm animal foods, and of course flour for the snack industry. We'll continue our legacy into the sixth generation who will hopefully one day pass the business onto their children...
the 7th generation of Brown's.

FROM OUR FAMILY TO YOURS!

Dear Valued Customer,

People who read our story often ask how F.M. Brown's survived for so many years and into the 6th generation of Brown's. How did we beat the stiff odds against us? What is the secret to the long-term success of a family owned and operated business?

First and foremost, the goal of our company is to endure long-term. All of our decisions are based on expanding and building the corporation for the next generation. Being a family owned business, we are afforded the luxury of not having to answer to public shareholders who demand short term profits and instant fixes. Instead, we can take time to strategize, adapt to and overcome any unfavorable conditions by working through them as a committed family team in order to continue our legacy. There is no tolerance for jealousy, selfishness or entitlement. We strive to do the right thing for our business, our family, our employees and our customers.

F.M. Brown's has successfully reinvented itself throughout the generations while retaining its core values based upon tradition, strength and integrity. As a member of the fifth generation of F.M. Brown's, I'm proud to say that we also successfully contributed to our history of reinvention by expanding our facility and improving our products, our packaging and our sales and marketing efforts. "Stand still and die." "Grow responsibly and flourish." Those are our mottos. There are times when one of us feels like giving up; but which of us wants to go down in our history as the "generation who failed?" How's that for motivation?

We have an unshakable family strength and stick together through thick and thin. We endure, grow and learn together. We still have old fashioned Friday night family dinners at our parent's farm where we gather to eat my Mother's wonderful cooking and decompress from our long work week. We try to keep our discussions focused on the family and not the business during these meals. We nurture our children and encourage them to go their own way and pursue their interests hoping that they'll bring back new ideas and thoughts about expanding the business. I cannot wait to see what the next generation has in store for us. That's what makes it all worthwhile.

Lastly and most importantly, we want to express our heartfelt gratitude to all of our loyal customers. We respect the fact that our continued success is dependent upon our customers who continue to purchase our products and provide us with the encouragement to continue our legacy.

Thank you for allowing me to share a bit of our journey and history with you and please feel free to browse through our catalog. We truly are more than you imagined.

Sincerely,

Sue Brown

Bird Lover's Blend® Wildlife Products

Why feed the wildlife?

Sometimes wildlife can be a frustrating part of backyard bird feeding and hobbyists will want to create a plan to manage them. Setting up wildlife feeding stations that are easily accessible to wildlife will entice them to eat from the station and leave your wild bird feeders alone. Since most wild animals do not hibernate, feeding wildlife should continue year-round. Feeding backyard wildlife is also a popular hobby on its own. Attracting chipmunks, squirrels, turkeys, ducks, geese, rabbits and deer enhances the surroundings and enjoyment of the wildlife enthusiast.

Wild Bird Feeding Tips & Information

- Wild Bird feeding is a steadily growing backyard activity, second only to gardening in popularity.

- 80% of wild bird sales dollars are for wild bird seed purchases, 15% are for wild bird feeders and the remaining 5% for accessories.
- Product quality, durability and functionality are the most important attributes among bird feeding consumers.
- Growth of the industry has resulted in higher customer expectations.
- People between the ages of 18-59 have increased their bird feeding habits due to being home more or not in the workplace since the Covid-19 pandemic.

Wild Birds Need Your Help!

Studies show that wild birds visiting backyard-feeding stations consistently have higher survival rates than those without access to feeders. Feeding wild birds year-round with quality foods will help them through vulnerable times throughout the seasons - Winter and Spring.

Why Feed the Birds?

Birds are entertaining and enjoyable to watch. Feeding wild birds will help build respect for nature and increase positive human-wildlife interactions. Children will acquire interest at early ages and become the future nature preservationists. Urban sprawl has consumed much of the land and sanctuaries, so parks, preserves and backyard habitats become key to survival. Wild bird feeding can be a wonderful educational tool for people of all ages right in their own backyard.

Birder Profiles

- Wild bird enthusiasts, those 20% of customers who buy 80% of the wild bird products, have 6-9 feeders in their yard.
- 96% have backyard gardens, 85% have bird baths and other birding accessories.
- Have higher than average median incomes.
- The majority of wild bird food and feeder purchases are made by women.
- Wild bird food is generally purchased from the retailer determined by the consumer as trusted and reliable.
- Over 55 million people over the age of 16 feed wild birds.

Help Make It A Better World For Birds

- Put out the "Welcome Mat" Make your backyard more appealing to birds by landscaping with native plants that provide natural food and shelter.
- Provide feeders, nest boxes and a fresh supply of water.
- Keep Feed and Feeding Areas Clean: To reduce the possibility of disease transmission in birds, clean feeders and feeding areas at least once a month. Rake up and dispose of seed hulls under feeders. Periodic relocation of the feeders will help prevent the build-up of waste. Keep seeds and foods dry and free of accumulated moisture.
- Birds and Chemicals Don't Mix: Many pesticides, fungicides and herbicides are toxic to birds. Avoid using them in areas where birds feed, bathe and rest.
- Keep Cats Away: Cats are estimated to kill millions of birds each year in the U.S.
- Reduce Window Collision: Collisions with glass kill millions of birds each and every year.

Bird Feeding is Rewarding & Fun!

Wild bird feeding is America's fastest growing hobby, second only to gardening. It's estimated that 40% of U.S. households feed and watch wild birds. It's a rewarding hobby for the entire family right in your own backyard!

Feeding Wild Birds Year-Round

Fall & Winter Wild Bird Feeding

The birds that stay during the fall and winter months depend on foods provided for them by backyard feeders. There are no insects or natural foods available during these months. While people sit in the comfort of their warm houses and watch the flurry of activity at the wild bird feeders, it's heartwarming to know that they're doing something to help nature survive.

Specialized Brown's® Fall & Winter Wild Bird Products

An excellent cold weather survival blend is Brown's® Bird Lover's Blend® Hi-Energy Plus™ with Mealworms. Hi-Energy Plus™ is rich in freeze dried mealworms that insect eating birds crave. Plus, we've added high fat and energy sunflower seeds and our premium white safflower seeds that birds love to eat. This blend furnishes good protein, fat and carbohydrates.

Brown's® Bird Lover's Blend® Chickadee/Nuthatch is filler-free and power-packed with high oil and fat content seeds such as shelled peanuts and canola that are most desired by these birds. These birds stay around in the winter and look for these ingredients to help them to stay alive.

Spring & Summer Wild Bird Feeding

Spring is a very stressful period of time for our precious wild bird population and also a crucial point in their lives. At this time of year, natural food sources are in short supply. Insects are scarce and insect eating birds will eagerly eat from feeders until insects begin to populate the areas again. Fatigued wild birds that have just arrived after following their long migration pattern may not be able to find natural food sources in the wild and will flock to feeders for nourishment. Wild birds are also expending more energy by defining their territories, constructing nests and caring for their young. Research confirms that if feeders are present, wild birds will nest earlier and quicker because they don't have to spend valuable time and energy searching for food in nature.

Traffic remains high at backyard feeders in early spring and summer which are an exciting time of year for watching and feeding backyard birds. There's nothing more rewarding than to watch than adults tending to the care of their young and bringing them to the feeders to teach them to eat. You'll see more colorful and unusual birds at the feeders at this time of year as the spring migrants show up. With longer daylight hours we can spend more time watching our backyard birds for longer periods of time. We no longer have to huddle for warmth in our houses and watch wild birds through our windows. While gardening, we can watch the action at the feeders up close. There's so much to observe as cardinals, chickadees, woodpeckers, hummingbirds, doves, blue jays, finches and more visit our feeders. FYI: woodpeckers actually eat more suet in March through July than they do all winter!

In mid-August, wild birds will begin to prepare for migration down south. At this time, your feeders will be alive with wild birds getting prepared for their long journeys. There will be groups of birds visiting your feeders to re-fuel. Many birds will form a pattern and return to the same feeding stations year after year. Continued feeding is a way to supplement food sources for our backyard birds and has a very positive effect on the wild bird population.

BROWN'S STORY

and registered as a National Historic Landmark, Brown's water-powered grist mill stands on Monocacy Creek in Pennsylvania. The old grist mill remains as solid as the day George Brown built it six generations ago.

It functions as a constant reminder of the strength, tradition, and integrity

on which our company was built. Over 178 years later, Brown's has become a national leader in animal nutrition products. The foundation of the past and the ideas of the present have blended into what we know as Brown's today.
